

ALL STOCKS ON THE EXCHANGE TO BE LISTED IN DOLLARS

When the Market Opens Tomorrow Many Stocks Will Be Listed in Dollars Instead of Points as in the Past.

NEW YORK, Oct. 12.—When the stock exchange opens tomorrow certain favorite stocks apparently will be halved in value, also in reality, but there will be no change in their worth. Thus Reading, Pennsylvania, and Westinghouse, which were selling Monday at 161, 117 and 138, will be listed at 80½, 58½ and 69 respectively, unless there be an unusual variation in the quotations over the holiday.

The reason for this is found in the announcement made by the stock exchange, asserting that certain amendments to the constitution had been approved almost unanimously by the members. One of these provided for the quoting of all stocks in terms of dollars instead of points as heretofore. Reading, Pennsylvania, and Westinghouse, together with a number of other issues of $50 par value, have been quoted on the hundred point basis in the past.

JONES THROWS DOWN 'DRY' CUDGEL WHICH BUCKNAM PICKS UP

Controversy Over Question of Personal Liberty as Affected By Prohibition Law Leads to Lively Correspondence.

Attorney General Wiley E. Jones and General Secretary A. R. Bucknam of the Temperance Federation of Arizona are engaged in a controversy which originated over a statement by Mr. Bucknam that, whichever way the court decided on the right to ship alcoholic beverages into the state, the decision would be a "dry" victory. Mr. Bucknam described a recent decision by Judge Shute favoring personal liberty as a "dry" gain, and wrote Mr. Jones to that effect. The following correspondence resulted:

A. R. Bucknam, Esq.,

Bisbee, Arizona.

Dear Sir:

I am just now in receipt of your peculiar letter of yesterday, in which you use this language: "I understand full well that you could have done no other at the time, and therefore I did not complain. Whatever the court says will be a victory for us as a 'federation'."

I desire to state to you plainly that I don't care whether you complain or not, and that I utterly repudiate your efforts to handicap the enforcement of the law prohibiting the introduction of liquors into Arizona for personal use. You do not represent the friends of the prohibition amendment, neither do you represent law enforcement or friends of law enforcement in Arizona. You are simply conducting a narrow partisan campaign in the special interests of the prohibition party as such, and you are not in sympathy with the good Democrats and the good Republicans and all others in their efforts to enforce the amendment forbidding introduction adopted by the people of Arizona. Your hope is, as plainly set forth in this letter and by your action and words continually shown, solely to further the interests of the prohibition party, even at the great price of the utter destruction of this law. I have endured your handicap long enough, entirely too long. Therefore I am speaking plainly to you, and if you encourage the introduction of liquors into Arizona, I shall certainly expect your prosecution as a principal, just the same as any other individual.

You do not represent the law nor its enforcement, while I do, under my oath, and the efforts of yourself and all others to break down the law plainly forbidding the introduction of liquors into the state, must be summarily dealt with.

Yours truly,

WILEY E. JONES, Attorney General.

To this letter, Mr. Bucknam replied

as follows:

Hon. Wiley E. Jones, Attorney General.

Phoenix, Arizona.

Dear Sir:

Your of the 28th inst. received and it was a great surprise to me, containing as it does so many allegations and threats, and sent out under the seal of the state of Arizona.

The whole matter reminds me of two boys who went down to a river with a strong current for a boat ride. One of the boys said: "Let us row upstream until we have had exercise enough, and then we can float back home and enjoy the last part of our ride the best."

The other boy said: "Oh! no, let us go down first, we will then have to row back whether we want to or not." And they went down and went so far that the work in getting back was so difficult that it over-balanced the joy of going down.

Now, Mr. Jones, you went with the crowd in your interpretation of the amendment, and I believe you were honest in your interpretation, just as I believe many of the people were honest who also took your position, but who are now out so sure and will swallow the decision of the court with much interest.

January 1st, 1915, you had the press, the administration, the legislature, the large mining interests, the railroads, the politicians, the liquor interest, and all those who were converted to the dry side by the arguments of the wets, namely, that this law will not allow any liquor to be introduced into the state for any purpose, but other words, it was easy sailing, and you went down the stream, and in fact it was next to impossible for you to do otherwise, and, therefore, I have not complained but rather defended you upon every occasion, and have been telling our people the peculiar position you were placed in.

Now conditions have changed, and you should have a large share of the credit for bringing them out. Today about all of the above interest, that were most thoroughly with the wets, are either with the dries or coming on the "fret", and are saying that we don't want the saloons to return, and perhaps the dries were right that this law, when considered with the Webb law, might be interpreted by our court to allow liquors to come into the state. All of your friends can change their minds and are doing so, but it will not be so easy for you to row back to where you started, but at any rate you can count on the dries to help you get back as we have faith in you, notwithstanding I was against your good judgment that you should go down the stream with the unconverted. Your friends are deserting you, but we stand by our friends, even if they do make a mistake.

In regard to your allegations, you say that I do not represent the friend of the amendment or of law enforcement, and that I, with others, would break down the law, and also that am carrying on a campaign in the interest of a political party.

In answer I must say that I was elected general secretary of the only state-wide organization in Arizona committed to this law and its enforcement at a state convention in Phoenix and up to date I have not received a complaint from the executive committee regarding my work, and the committee has full power to call for my resignation at any time. It seems to me that I must represent at least a majority of them or I would have heard of it before.

In regard to breaking down the law, I have defended your interpretation of the law on all occasions and have said over and over again, that whatever you said was the law until the court spoke, and then whatever they said would be the law, but I have never failed to say that I believe the court would decide that liquor would be allowed to come into the state and if that is an offense, then you better commence your prosecution.

In regard to working for a political party, you must know that the Federation is made up of all political parties and that it would be foolish and impossible for me to work for a single day for any political party without running against a snarl.

The nearest I have come to working for any party is in suggesting that the Democratic party in Cochise county should be a prohibition party, and also in securing about two hundred and fifty subscriptions for the best paper to obtain the most information in regard to the working of prohibition in all the other states.

My efforts are an open book and so are yours, and they are of our own choosing, and will be counted for us or against us as to the wisdom of our actions. You went down the river with the crowd and I went up the river alone, and it seems to me that I am coming down with much pleasure, and that you are going to have all you can do to get back, but we have our eyes on you and will come to your rescue if we see you in need of help, and who can say that Jones did not do his best?

A. R. BUCKNAM, General Secretary Temperance Federation of Arizona.

Princetonians are worrying about the turf of their stadium, which has been attacked by grubworms. The grubs are at work about an inch below the surface, the attack being made upon the roots of the new grass. It is impossible to kill the worms without killing the grass, but a liberal dose of Paris green and soot tends to render them inactive.

SIGNALS OF DISTRESS

Bisbee People Should Know How to Read and Heed Them.

Disordered kidneys give many signals of distress. The secretions may be dark, contain sediment.

Passages are sometimes frequent, scanty painful.

Backache is often present day and night.

Headaches and dizzy spells may occur.

Weakened kidneys should receive quick help.

Don't delay! Use a special kidney remedy.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for weak kidneys, backache and urinary disorders.

Bisbee evidence proves their worth. James Day, School Hill, Bisbee, says: "I suffered from backache, headache and bladder trouble. My ankles were swollen and I was in bad shape when I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills. After using several boxes, the backache left, the swelling went down and I felt better all over."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Day had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.

BISBEE PIONEER PAYS VISIT TO DOUGLAS

L. C. Shattuck, of the Miners and Merchants Bank, is Paid Tribute.

L. C. Shattuck, the well known pioneer of Bisbee, was a business visitor in Douglas yesterday, coming here to confer with local parties on business. Mr. Shattuck says the Shattuck mine of which he is the promoter and the heaviest stockholder, is making excellent headway, with production at the extreme maximum. Mr. Shattuck is the owner of some good property here, and expressed his pleasure at the evidence of growth and prosperity which he found here. He was the center of a group of old friends in the lobby of the Grand hotel.

Len Shattuck has something to do in nearly every line of endeavor in the Warren district, including the newspaper business. Shattuck, with one exception, J. G. Pritchard, Mr. Meidling and others, were financial backers of Bill Nash when he started the Bisbee Evening Miner. Shattuck unhesitatingly $500 worth of lumber for which he accepted stock in the enterprise. He was made a director and one of the meetings called to discuss the finances of the paper, more than half of the board were drunk. He was found to be a hard worker and a man of integrity. Moving an advertisement of the drunken board, Shattuck hurried to the street and to the first man he met, who was E. G. Ord, a plumber, and of course, a capitalist.

Ord offered to sell his stock in the paper. Ord offered to pay Shattuck one dollar for his stock with the understanding that Shattuck was to "treat the house," which was his own Brewery Gulch saloon. Shattuck agreed, and setting out the liquor lashed his stock from the safe and signed it over to Ord. Since then Shattuck declares that he has tried to confine his business activities to legitimate lines of trade. For years he was proprietor of the Shattuck saloon in Bisbee, which was a favorite resort for the oldtimers of Cochise county when they visited Bisbee.

Once when Shattuck was called to "combustion" as a witness he was asked a state his business. He replied that his business consisted of "a little beer," a little mining and a little beer. He is rated as the richest man in the Warren district and holds the respect of all who know him in Cochise county.—Douglas International.

TO DARKEN HAIR APPLY SAGE TEA

A few applications of Sage Tea and Sulphur brings back its vigor, color, gloss and thickness.

Common garden sage brewed into a weak tea with sulphur and alcohol added will turn gray, streaked and faded hair beautifully dark and luxuriant. Remove every bit of dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair. Just a few applications will prove a revelation if your hair is fading, gray or dry, scraggly and thin. Mixing the Sage Tea and Sulphur recipe at home, hours, is troublesome. An easier way is to get the ready-to-use hair coloring drug stores, known as "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," thus avoiding a lot of fuss.

While wispy, gray, faded hair is not fashionable, we all desire to retain our youthful appearance and attractiveness. By darkening your hair with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it does so naturally, so evenly. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning all gray hairs have disappeared, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, lustrous, soft and luxuriant.
